Lillian Davis has volunteered in some capacity at Preucil School of Music for approximately 32 years. Lillian initially became involved with Preucil School in 1985 when she started music lessons with her first of three children. She began volunteering as her children participated in School events. She was always reliable and organized, and understood the mission of the school. Her dedication to not only supporting her children, but also the school, was very special to watch. It was hard not to be motivated by her enthusiasm for the process and the product. Lillian served in a more official volunteer capacity following the graduation of her children. As a member of the Preucil School Guild Committee for 12 years and as its Chair for 3 years, she led three major fundraisers for the school, totaling over $60,000 in revenue. She also directed smaller fundraising projects, served on supporting committees, and occasionally donated her legal services. Lillian served as a Board Trustee for 4 years, 3 of those as the chair of the Guild. Her contributions to the school reinforce the important role our volunteers play in the overall success of our programs. Without people eager to help support our mission, without people that enjoy youth, education and the arts, and without people willing to guide and nurture other volunteers, the Preucil School would not have the diverse curriculum or quality music education program it has today. It is a pleasure to nominate Lillian Davis for the Governor’s Volunteer Award.
